

Purple Sprouting Broccoli

Red Admiral F1

HYBRID

General Description:

Our first hybrid introduction, Red Admiral is best suited to cropping in mid- November to end of December. The vigorous plants produce prolific high quality spears with small heads ideal for the premium pre-pack market. The spears are medium sized, dark purple and have excellent texture and flavour. Red Admiral can be cropping over a reasonably long period and will yield average weights of 200-300g per plant depending upon time of year, location and season.
